HOW TO MAKE MONEY IN THE MARIJUANA STOCK MARKET

MARIJUANA STOCK MARKET

Sen. Jeff Sessions (R-AL), President Trump's nominee for attorney general is a done deal.

The 420 Investor Stock Market was up about +88% last year.

It is up about +8.8% this year.

I am not sure whether or not the cannabis stock market follows the general bullish stock market, or whether it is justified on its own.

I don't think anyone else knows this either. But the market speaks to investors as bullish.

On a fundamental basis, a strong cannabis stock market makes no sense to me at this time.

The cannabis industry faces more serious problems in 2017 than it did during the past 3 years.

This realistic outlook includes a hostile DEA and Jeff Sessions as AG.

Looking behind the fundamental finances of a given public company, the very nature of this industry is cash, access to cash, and an ability or inability to navigate through a hostile Federal government.

This adds up to me to be one word: Caution.

While Canada has its problems, it appears to be a better area to invest in rather than cannabis stocks in the USA.

Choose your cannabis company investments based on solid fundamentals, the most important being cash.

There is one marijuana stock that is flying under the radar. I will outline it in future newsletters.
