HOW TO MAKE MONEY IN THE STOCK MARKET SANTA FE GOLD'S (SFEG - $0.10) STOCK TRADING UPDATE

On August 18, 2017, Santa Fe Gold announced it received a capital investment of "$2.57 Million converted to equity at prices close to market quotes from a private overseas investment company and a number of associated investors."

We were surprised that the stock did not respond to the upside.

This Press Release is the significant announcement of 2017.

It allows for continued claims announcements, expansion of assets and use of proceeds to create revenues.

It also provides a solid financial foundation for the company.

I would have thought that with the price of gold near 1,300 at the announcement's date, combined with the significance of this infusion of capital, that SFEG shares would have gone up, reflecting a double whammy.

What has happened is that volume has increased significantly, but share prices have remained relatively flat.

SFEG this morning is trading at 10 cents this morning, hardly a table pounder that does not reflect the importance of this capital infusion.

We do not recommend buy, sell and hold positions in the stock market.

However, it appears to us that the stock is laying a base for an increase in share price.

We expect announcements of new claims and the use of this capital to create revenues.

In addition, we also expect that the shares will be listed on Edgar in the near future.

I would think that these events portend strong future share prices of SFEG.
