"We are very excited to give our all shareholders a dividend payout and get on with the business at hand. It's been a long and very exciting road, with lots of opportunities we have collected along the way. We believe this dividend structure gives our previous and current shareholders of record an outstanding opportunity to capitalize on the share dividend payout to create another asset base for them, while the company utilizes the new class of Common A shares with a higher value to complete our negotiations for a much larger funding to push our drug development programs forward much faster. As regulation changes swiftly in such an enormous burgeoning industry, it creates opportunities and it can create hurdles for those same opportunities. We must remain fluid and move as the regulations move. We believe our team of Scientific Advisors gives us the unique opportunity to strive for excellence in our drug development programs as their track record speaks volumes for themselves. Our expansion program will be fueled by the growing market and demand," stated Mr. Raymond C. Dabney, President & CEO, Co-Founder
