PAZOO PAYS OFF ITS REMAINING CONVERTIBLE PROMISSORY NOTES

WHIPPANY, N.J., April 15, 2015 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Pazoo, Inc. (OTC Pinks:PZOO) (German WKN#: A1J3DK), is pleased to announce that as of yesterday, the company has completely repaid the total of its obligations on its Convertible Promissory Notes to LG Capital Funding LLC and Macallan Partners LLC. In addition, Pazoo has given notice of its intention to fully pay off the Convertible Promissory Notes held by Union Capital LLC by the end of next week and Eastmore Capital LLC within the next two weeks. The total of the obligations, repaid and planned for the next two weeks, is approximately $400,000.

Pazoo as a company felt it extremely important to eliminate any conversions of these notes into free trading shares of the company's common stock. With the tremendous strides recently attained through our 100% subsidiary, Harris Lee, LLC and 40% owned MA & Associates, LLC, Pazoo is currently working towards more traditional financing vehicles. This will also tremendously benefit the company as it will free up tens of millions of reserve shares for the company's use

- ▶The effect of Pazoo's paying off its total Convertible Promissory Notes cannot be understated. It is a major home run.
- ▶The Company's capital structure is now much more solid by freeing up tens of million reserve shares for the company to use in its expansion plans. Potential additional dilution has disappeared.
- ▶We knew this was a possibility as it is with many firms having convertible promissory notes that have financed them.
- ▶We are awaiting the next filing to fully understand the new capital structure.
- ▶It is interesting that the stock went down 12.6% on large volume on the news; probably profit taking.
- ▶The bottom line is that Pazoo is now a much stronger company financially. The future is exciting. The Company has performed on both its business model and its financial structure. It is impressive.
