Growlife (PHOT) Stock Trading in the Future

- A short time ago, Growlife (PHOT) announced its intention to clear its stock from the gray sheets.
- We do not know when this will happen. The Company mentioned it is consider filing a 15-C -211 or an S-1 registration statement
- It appears to me that ultimately this will happen; when I do not know.
- Long term investors, I would think, will look back at this time gray sheet trading as an ideal entry point.
- Trading this issue without any restrictions will give the company what it badly needs; a green pass to acquire other assets.
- PHOT has a number of advantages over other stocks we cover.
- One of its primary advantages is that everyone in industry knows this story.
- This is the appropriate time to do your research.
