HOW TO MAKE MONEY IN THE MARIJUANA STOCK MARKET

GROWLIFE, INC. (PHOT) RE-LISTED TO THE OTC BULLETIN BOARD

In the third week of April 2014, the SEC suspended trading in Growlife, Inc., (PHOT) common stock.

Growlife was the Poster Child of the cannabis stock market and industry.

Cutting off the supposed head of the snake sealed PHOT's doom.

It also marked the beginning of a massive Bear Market decline in share prices in the cannabis stock market.

The SEC did not give PHOT a reason for its suspension of trading.

FINRA entered the fray and papered PHOT for well over a year. That process should have taken a few months, not the time period that PHOT was subjected to.

Ambulance chasers comprised of legal firms filed multiple lawsuits against PHOT, compounding PHOT's operation and regulatory compliance issues. They collected their booty. They took badly needed cash that PHOT could have used.

The truth is that PHOT is a very high quality company. It always has been.

Marco Hegyi, CEO reminds me of Moses. Moses had easy: 40 days and 40 nights. Marco trudged through almost two years, next to an impossible time period. He did so with remarkable management talent and success.

There is no more capable CEO in the cannabis industry than Marco. Mark Scott, CFO also deserves substantial credit.

We will talk about PHOT in upcoming newsletters.
