THE MARIJUANA STOCK MARKET CONTINUES TO GO UP

- ▶ On Wednesday November 5, 2014, legalization of marijuana elections will be held in Alaska, District of Columbia and Oregon. Polls are mixed.
- ▶ This powerful stock market rally is anticipating these elections. This is how they may look:
- ▶ DC will definitely vote for legalization.
- ▶ The odds are that the Oregon results will be positive, but it is not certain.
- ▶ Alaska is not known. It may be a coin flip.
- ▶ This leaves Florida. 60% of the vote for medical marijuana is required in the state.
- ▶ The Florida vote is a coin flip.
- ▶ If all results are positive, look for a very strong stock market reaction on Thursday.
- ▶ The current strong rally is anticipating positive results.
- ▶ Investors place their bets on basket purchases of the older bell weathers: PHOT, CBIS, HEMP and MJNA.
- ▶ These stocks are Bull Market traded on good news. All have done well. All should do better with positive election results.
