Alan Brockstein and his 420 Investor

- Alan Brockstein is a CFA, Chartered Financial Analyst, the highest credential in securities analysis. Alan is razor sharp, honest, highly educated – the best of the best in Wall Street.
- Alan started the 420 Investor about a year ago. He is today Mr. Marijuana
- His website is the definitive website for those people interested in following the cannabis companies in the industry and the cannabis stock market
- I recommend that every serious cannabis investor sign up for Alan's website.
- He currently follows about 56 stocks and keeps investors updated on the important issues in the industry.
- Over the years I know of no Wall Street securities analyst who has created the information portal that Alan has developed. It is beyond outstanding work.
- It will help you keep up to date with the entire cannabis industry.
- I recommend it.
